Silent Spaces – Räume der Stille

Opening: Thursday, 28 May 2009, 7.30 pm

The project looks into a phenomenon that is rarely ostensible but obviously present in our time: artists detect silent spaces amidst the daily growing flood of information and events and depict the essence of our everyday life. They reflect the contemporaneity of the past in urban and rural environments or create new spaces of image and thought using electronic, medial or classic forms of expression.

In doing so they defy today's ever increasing call for sensationalism and superficial spectacle in the art world. They do not focus on "hip" messages but on real and imaginary spaces of illustration, sound or interaction, that provoke us to fundamentally reconsider our social and global interaction or even our very personal lives.

Accompanying films and videos by the artists will be shown on Tuesday, 21 July and 29 September 2009 at 8 pm (see individual programme).
